COUNTY TRUSTEE OPPOSES EXTRA HIGH SCHOOL TAX

W. R. Davis Says a 20 Cent
Levy Would Raise Only $4,605.58.

Separate Building Would Create Big Burden.

FAVORS PAYING CITY HIGH

Because he does not see how Mc-Cracken can build a county High school and pay the salaries, W. R.
Davis, a county school trustee, who has been strongly in favor of erecting a separate school, has announced that he can see no way except to cooperate with the city High school. Mr.
Davis has supported Acadia as the proper location for the county High school; but this morning he declared he would vote to pay the tuition of the county school graduates in the city schools.

"Since our last meeting," said Mr.
Davis, "I have done some figuring and I can not see how the county can build a separate school. The assessment of the county, according to the latest figures exclusive of the city, is $233,979, and with the special tax of 20 per cent allowed for the county
High school, there would be revenue of about $4,605.58. To this might be added possibly $2,500 from poll
taxes, and the total for the school would be something slightly over $7-000. Anyone can see that would not build a desirable school building, and although I favor a separate school, I think it would be better for the county to co-operate with the city High school, and lay aside so much money
every year until a sufficient sum was accumulated to erect a building."

Lone Oak has offered a building
for the school, but some of the trustees do not regard it as suitable for the school, and prospects are brighter
that the city High school will secure the county pupils when the county school trustees meet.

Indian Revolution.

London, Feb. 12.—Secret service
officers today began an investigation
to see whether the Indian revolutionary committee, with headquarters
here, or in Paris, are directing the campaign of assassination in India.

In Bankruptcy.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy
was filed this morning in federal court by Lee A. Reynolds, of Wick-liffe. Liabilities $2,270.90.

Proceedings in bankruptcy have been instituted at Louisville for Ul-man & company, dealers in ladies'
ready made clothing.

Editor Lemon in Paducah.

J. R. Lemon, editor of the Mayfield Messenger, was in the city today. Mr. Lemon had started to Hodgenville to attend the Lincoln exercises, but the weather frightened him
off. "I am not used to muddy roads," he said, "as we have nothing of the sort in Mayfield or Graves county,
and anyway I prefer to go up when Taft is there, which will be in May.
You know Taft is in my class."

CELEBRATE IN ENGLAND.

Lincoln Exercises Held Last Night at Hitchdale.

London, Feb. 12.—The Lincoln celebration in England began at Rochdale, in Lancashire last night. A big meeting was held in the town hall
and presided over by the mayor, at which John L. Griffiths, American consul at Liverpool, delivered an address. Other speeches were made, recalling the first that Lincoln's great townsman, John Bright, had loyally supported the cause of Lincoln and Union. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read and a resolution adopted by acclamation recording Great Britain's reverence for his noble character.

Loose Leaf Sales

At Bohmer's loose leaf warehouse
this morning 32,000 pounds of tobacco were offered and sold. The prices were 4 1/4 and 9 cents a pound.
There were no rejections. Sales will not be held tomorrow morning but will resume Monday.

Taft at New Orleans

New Orleans, Feb. 12.—Hitchcock is expected to hold a conference with Taft this afternoon to discuss cabinet possibilities. This morning Taft addressed a mass meeting of colored citizens. At breakfast he entertained John G. Schafer, editor of the Chicago Post. Mr. Taft declared himself in favor of the lock and dam
plan for the Panama canal.

West Kentucky Coal Company Will Build Five Hundred Barges Here, Spending Over One Million Dollars

The Commercial Club Leases
Wharf Space For the Company on Tennessee River Front.

Paducah will be the place where the West Kentucky Coal company will spend $1,200,000 in building a fleet of 500 barges. The last chance of any other location to be selected ended when the directors of the Commercial club held a meeting and accepted the proposition of the company for a convenient site for the building of the barges. One thousand feet of the property of the glass
plant and 500 feet of the Farley stave plant, all bordering on the Tennessee river will be leased by the Commercial club for five years. The rental will amount to $800 a year,
but this will be small in comparison with the money expended here for labor.

The fleet of 500 barges will be built on the site and work will begin in a short while. Each barge will cost $2,400, and it is intended to complete two barges a week. At this rate it will take five years to finish
the fleet. To do the work it will require from 125 to 150 workmen, receiving wages from $1.50 a day up.
Most of the workmen will be Paducah ship builders and the money expended for salaries and supplies will benefit the merchants. The timber will be shipped from the south and all of the local mills are bidding for the contract. The barges will be built on the bank of the river and twice a week it is intended to have a launching of a barge.

News that the coal company has been intending building the fleet has been current for several weeks, but officials of the company had never decided on any location, although Mr.
C. M. Riker and C. S. Bookwalter,
local managers, pulled for Paducah.
Mr. J. C. Bryden, vice-president of the company, of New York, who was in the city this week, admitted Paducah has advantages over Sturgis.

The Commercial club appointed Messrs. Harry Hank, Sanders Fawler and Richard Rudy a committee to arrange for the rental of property
on the Tennessee river.

The company has placed a contract
with a firm for 100 steel barges,
which will be used for towing coal up
the Mississippi river to St. Louis, and the steel barges will be seen in the Paducah harbor frequently.

Cooper Trial

Nashville, Feb. 12.—The sixth venue was reported today in the Cooper trial. Work of selecting the last juror was begun. The court room was crowded.

TRAMPS ARE NUMEROUS AND DANGEROUS AND MANY COUNTRY HOMES ARE VISITED

The county is full of tramps, according to residents and reports that have been received at the sheriff's office. Several robberies have occurred in the past few days, and the farmers promise to go after the hoboes unless relief is given.

Last night Mr. Will Schmidt lost his vest, containing a gold watch and chain, about 8 o'clock. Mr. Schmidt had returned from the city, where he is a clerk, and pulled off his vest, while standing in the kitchen. He placed it on a chair near a door and

TENNESSEE ELECTION BILLS PASS SENATE

Nashville, Feb. 12.—The state senate passed the three pending election bills on final reading. First came the compulsory legalized primary bill,
under which the entire plan of primary elections is revolutionized.

The last was the state commission
bill.

The two commission bills strip the governor of much of his power, as under the old law he was authorized to name the state board, and the state board named the county boards,
whereas the new bills give the power
of electing the state board to the general assembly, and it appoints or elects, the county boards, taking, as it will be seen, the entire control of the election machinery out of the hands of the chief executive.

Return From Auto Show.

Mr. F. W. Katterjohn, a member of the board of public works, and his son, Mr. Roy Katterjohn, returned this morning, after attending the automobile show in Chicago. They were the last two members of the Paducah party to return home after inspecting the new models at the show.

Silk Manufacturers Protest.

Paris, Feb. 12.—A number of delegates from the silk industries of France have asked Minister of Commerce Cruppi to protest against the American proposal to raise the existing tariff on plushes, velvets and silks explaining that such a step would be a great blow to the French manufacturers. They requested M. Cruppi to point out to the United States that the prohibitive character of the proposed rates could result only in re-patrials prejudicial to the two countries.

Dams For Tennessee

Washington, Feb. 12.—A measure was introduced by Judge Richardson for the purpose of improving the navigation of the Tennessee river
over the Elk river shoals, and the Big and Little Muscle shoals and of developing the water power in connection therewith.

The secretary of war is authorized to construct four dams and a single lock-lift at each of the dams, in conformance with the general project devised and proposed by the Muscle Shoals Hydro-Electric Power company. Each of the dams is to be of such height as will raise the ordinary low-water level of the river not less than 40 nor more than 50 feet. The important feature of the proposition is that it means, and is understood to mean, the entire abandonment of the present government constructed canal along the Big Muscle shoals, and the Elk river shoals.

At the residence of Mr. Andy Seltz, who resides a short distance from the Schmidt home, a burly tramp approached the kitchen door and demanded of Mrs. Seltz that she give him something to eat. Mrs. Seltz was alone at the time and hastily handed him a lunch and locked the door. A pair of trousers had been hung on the clothes line and the garments disappeared with the tramp.

A Big Hunt.

Wednesday night the home of Winfield Hall, at Melber, was entered and over $500 was secured by the burglars. Mr. Hall was preparing to take a trip. Detective T. J.
Moore is working on the robbery.
Farmers have reported several other incidents where small robberies were made in the county. The number of hoboes on the freight trains is increasing also, as the advance guard of "Wearily Willies" en route from the south to the northern cities for the spring and summer has begun.

President Speaks

Dennison, O., Feb. 12.—At Altoona, Pa., a great crowd of workmen crowded about the Roosevelt car and forced him to respond to a demand for a speech. He left the car and went to a truck through the crowd in the yard and spoke. Then he shook hands with them.

NO OPEN REVOLT IN CALLOWAY CO. TO BE EXPECTED

Although Planters Are Dissatisfied and Are Holding Their Tobacco.

Loose Leaf Warehouse Project Abandoned.

HOGSHEAD OF NEW CROP SOLD

Murray, Ky., Feb. 12. (Special).— Talk of a loose leaf tobacco warehouse for Murray has about subsided.
A petition was circulated among the farmers but few signers were secured
though there is much dissatisfaction among growers, who are members of the association. Many farmers who were asked to petition for a loose leaf market, say they favor the opening of such an establishment, but do not want to bring prominence upon themselves at this particular time.

While there is at present little prospect of an organized revolt
against the association in this county,
it is apparent that the only thing that prevents one is the lack of a leader.
The growers are holding their tobacco
in their barns and few crops have been delivered to the association prizing house though the prizes advertised that they are prepared to advance 60 per cent of the estimated value of tobacco delivered to them. The proposition is not so attractive this year because the schedule of prices is lower than last year's schedule.

The association salesman has placed a few hogsheads of the 1908 crop on the market and sold one hogshead at $9.50. This has given the farmers whose 1907 holdings have not been sold a new grievance, as they say the general manager has violated the promise that all the 1907 crop would be sold before any of the new crop
was offered for sale.

Eastern Star.

Twenty charter members have been secured for the organization of a chapter of the Order of Eastern Star at Murray. When a dispensation is granted for the institution of the chapter, members of the Paducah chapter will probably be invited to institute the lodge.

Wants State Normal.

Enterprising citizens are talking of entering Murray in the fight for the location of the State Normal school.
If the school should be removed from Bowling Green, Murray claims many advantages as a school town. Senator Conn Linn, of this county, is a member of the board of regents and would use his influence for his home town.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Gray Swan and Mrs. Lona
Keys are visiting friends in Paducah.
Mr. Gene Stubbfield, of Victoria,
Tex., is visiting relatives here.

Roy Harding, of Ft. Worth, Texas, is visiting relatives here.

Rev. J. M. Pool and wife have returned from a visit to relatives near Dresden, Tenn.

Judge Thomas P. Cook is here looking after political fences.

WILLIE MAY HODGE PROVES GENEROUS WITH HER MONEY

In an alleged den of vice run by Willie May Hodge, colored, and Leona Hall, colored, on Washington street near Tenth street, Ernest Jacks, a young man from Hickman,
woke up this morning minus his roll of $12 and his gold watch. Jacks had been drugged and did not regain his senses until about 9 o'clock. Patrolman Henry Singery recovered the watch from the Hodge woman. Patrolman Singery arrested both women and in less than an hour Willie May Hodge was in the county jail on a charge of grand larceny, having been held over from police court.
Leona Hall will be held on the charge of running a disorderly house. When the tall policeman arrested the negro women they were living high with the money alleged they took from Jacks. The Hodge woman tossed a negro boy a dime for tying her shoe
and her generosity was proportional to that act.

NANCY HANKS.

Prairie child, brief as dew,
What winds of wonder nourished
you?
Rolling plains of billowy green,
Far horizons, blue, serene;

Lofty skies the slow clouds climb,
Where burning stars beat out the time,
These, and the dreams of fathers
bold,
Baffled longings, hopes untold,

Gave to you a heart of fire,
Love like deep waters, brave desire.
Ah, when youth's rapture went out
in pain,
And all seemed over, was all in vain?

O soul obscure, whose wings life
bound,
And soft death folded under the ground;
Wilding lady, still and true,
Who gave us Lincoln and never knew;

To you at last, our praise, our tears,
Love and a song through the nation's years!
Mother of Lincoln, our tears, our praise;
A battle-flag and the victor's bays!

tury.

Two Killed; Many Injured.
New York, Feb. 12.—Two were killed when sixty men were caught in the explosion of dynamite cartridges in the McAdoo tunnels today. The number injured was kept secret by the company.

Officer Coming for Gardner.
Charley Gardner, the negro arrested yesterday by Patrolman Henry Singery on a charge of breaking into the railroad station at Springfield, Tenn., will be held until the arrival of a police officer from Evansville. A telegram was received by Chief Collins this morning from A. W. Button, saying that an officer had been sent for the negro.

B. H. Scott's Condition
Mr. B. H. Scott, who suffered a stroke of apoplexy Wednesday, is still

Scott's age is against him. Last night
he seemed to understand what was said.

Paducah Banks
CLOSE DOORS TO HONOR OCCASION

Paducah observed the centenary of the birth of Kentucky's noble son quietly today. The postoffice was open between the hours of 9 and 10
o'clock this morning, but closed during the rest of the day as on the regular national holidays. The letter carriers made only one delivery. The public library was also closed during the day.

All of the banks in the city were closed, but all of the stores remained open for business. Considerable confusion has prevailed in the state for the past two days as to whether the national banks should close in honor of the Lincoln centenary, and in some cities in the state the banking institutions will close at noon, others will remain open all day. The Paducah banks agreed to remain closed all day.

The bill was before the house of representatives to make the hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth
a national holiday and was passed.
When the senate was reached an appropriation of several hundred thousand dollars was attached for a monument, and the house of representatives refused to concur in the change of the senate.

However, President Roosevelt and Governor Willson sent messages urging the bankers to remain closed today and all of the banks in the city
aided by the request.
Lincoln pictures have been used prominently by the merchants in their display windows, and few have been the dealers that did not have a picture of Abraham Lincoln or some remembrance of the war-time president on display. Several displays were unusually attractive.

LINCOLN DAY CELEBRATION AT HODGENVILLE ATTRACTS BIG CROWD TO CEREMONIES

President Roosevelt Lays Cornerstone of Building Which is to Contain

JOE FOLK, GOVERNOR WILLSON, GENERAL WRIGHT
AND GENERAL WILSON ALSO DELIVER ADDRESSES.

From Roosevelt's Lincoln Speech.

He did not hate the man from whom he differed.
As a people we are fortunate in the characters of the two greatest of our public men, Washington and Lincoln.

Lincoln saw into the future with the prophetic imagination
usually vouchsafed only to the poet and the seer.
Lincoln was one of the two greatest Americans; one of the two or three greatest men of the century; one of the greatest men in the world's history.

There have been other men as great and other men as good;
but in all history of mankind there are no other two great men as good as these, no other two good men as great.

He had continually to check those who wished to go forward too fast, at the very time that he overrode the opposition of those who wished not to go forward at all.

He had in him all the lift toward greatness of the visionary without any of the visionary's fanaticism. He had the practical man's hard commonsense, but there was in him none of that morbid growth of mind that blinds so many practical men to the higher things of life.

Louisville, Feb. 12.—(Special).—nearly 15,000 people braved the rain and mud today and journeyed to the Lincoln shrine at Hodgenville to honor the memory of the martyred son of the people, who would have been 100 years old today. In spite of the weather the scene was notable.

President Roosevelt's special, with the party, including Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel, Secretary of War Wright, Secretary Loeb, Surgeon General Rixey, Capt. A. W. Butt, T. H. Netherland, of the executive office, and O. T. Boyd, of the Pennsylvania railway; arrived on time this morning and left at 9:35 for Hodgenville.

Crowds Greet President.

Louisville, Feb. 12.—Kentuckians gave the president a warm welcome when his train reached here today. Crowds were at the stations all the way from Cincinnati.

Oklahoma Solons Work On.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 12.—The legislature today is in session despite the proclamation of Governor Haskell declaring it a public holiday. Resolutions of both houses were voted to continue business.

Missouri Does Honor.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 12.—Chaplain Cook, of the senate, former Kentuckian and Confederate soldier, pronounced the benediction at the Lincoln exercises at a joint session of the legislature, at which Governor Hadley spoke.

Kansas Celebrates Day.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 12.—Lincoln day was widely celebrated in Kansas by a monster celebration this afternoon. The legislators have gone to Lawrence to view the university.

Chicago Celebrates.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Thousands flocked to six public mass meetings
here today to hear tributes of Lincoln.

In California.

Sacramento, Feb. 12.—The legislature today dropped the discussion of the Japanese bill and gave the day to a Lincoln celebration.

In New York.

New York, Feb. 12.—Cannon at various forts, fired salutes to Lincoln this morning. Throughout the day exercises were held. Schools were scenes of celebrations. There is a big mass meeting at Cooper Union.

At Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12.—Ambassador Jusserand, of France, Senator Dooliver and a party of Washington officials arrived this morning in a special car. Bryan and Ambassador Bryce arrived later with Robert T.
Lincoln, for the celebration of Lincoln day here. Although the weather is threatening, big crowds arrived to visit the house and tomb and hear the tributes.

An elm tree was planted this morning by soldiers near the place where Lincoln's body lay in state before the funeral. A mass meeting this afternoon was addressed by Dooliver, Jusserand, Bryce and Bryan. It is presided over by Governor Deneen.

(By United Press.)

Hodgenville, Ky., Feb. 12.—Standing on the spot where, one hundred years ago, the soul of Abraham Lincoln came into the world, President Roosevelt today laid the cornerstone of the marble memorial hall that is to rise, a shelter for the little log cabin
in which the martyred president was born, and a shrine for the American people.

The Lincoln centenary is celebrated today throughout the United States and the world joins in honor
to his memory, but the observance centers at the scrubby, soil wasted
little farm, two miles from here.

Gen. Luke E. Wright, the secretary of war, who fought in the army of the south, delivered the address on behalf of the Confederate army. To mark still more cessation of sectional strife a Southern Methodist bishop, Galloway, of Mississippi, pronounced the benediction. Participating also in the exercises and delivering addresses are Governor Folk, of Missouri, the president of the National Lincoln Farm association; Gen. James Grant Wilson, representing the Union army. Among the thousands who journeyed to the farm are many veterans of the Civil war on both sides.

Happiness.
The young poet had just finished what he considered to be a work of real inspiration, and, rising from his table, he hastened upstairs to where his little wife, a bride of six weeks, was sitting darning his sock.
"Listen, sweetheart," he whispered tenderly. "I have just written this." And he began to read. He put his whole soul into the reading. His gestures were graceful; his intonation perfect. The whole spirit of his beautiful poem breathed forth as he threaded his way from the beginning to the end of his theme; and when he had finished he looked at her, awaiting her verdict.
For a time she was silent.
"Well, dear heart," he said, "tell me what you are thinking."

"I was wondering, dearest—"
"What?"
"Whether the butcher was not awfully late with that liver," she replied.—Modern Society.

News of Theatres

AT THE KENTUCKY.
Friday... The Lion and the Mouse.
Saturday Matinee and Night, ... Sis Perkins.

H. H. Rogers the Lion.
It is all nonsense to think that John D. Rockefeller is the original of John Burkett Ryder, the great mogul of "The Lion and the Mouse," which, now in its fourth season, will be seen at the Kentucky theater next Friday night. Ryder is not the prototype of Rockefeller, but of the Iron man, Henry H. Rogers, the Bismarck of the Standard Oil company. Rockefeller is the smooth, silent, non-combative Von Moltke of that concern; Rogers, the Iron-willed, rough-shod rider, Bismarck. Rockefeller plans (as Von Moltke planned to overthrow France); Rogers executes. Rockefeller is strong only from the eyes up. Rogers from the chin up. Rockefeller has no chin. No man ever mastered men unless he possessed a square chin and steel jaws. Rogers possesses the chin and jaws of a pirate of the Spanish main. When "The Lion and the Mouse" was produced at the Lyceum theater, in New York, on the first night, three years ago, every Wall street man in the audience said, at the end of the first scene between Shirley Rossmore and Ryder: "Ryder is Rogers!" Surely he is. Imagine poor, old weak-stomached Rockefeller consuming big, black cigars, and talking to his wife, son, Shirley and all his dependents as if they were his slaves. No, John D. is a gentle creature.

Wrestling Match.
One of the greatest of all entertainments is scheduled to be at the Kentucky theater Wednesday, February 17, when "Wild Joe" Collins, champion of Canada, will meet Young Hackenschmidt in a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match.

"Sis Perkins." "Sis Perkins" will be at The Kentucky Saturday matinee and night.

TO HAIR DRESSERS
A Splendid Hair Tonic That Makes Beautiful Hair.

Every hair dresser should know about Parisian Sage, the quick acting hair dressing that does just what this paper tells you it will do. Parisian Sage is a most delightful and different hair dressing, a fact that will be recognized the moment it is applied to the scalp. There is not a particle of stickiness in it; it is not greasy; it has a delicate and refined odor, and is a truly invigorating tonic that will make hair grow, if the hair root still shows the least sign of life.

Try a bottle of Parisian Sage. It will brighten up the hair in two days.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by Gilbert's drug store to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and scalp itch in two weeks, or money back. It is particularly in demand by women of refinement, who desire soft, luxuriant hair, that compels admiration. Price 50 cents a large bottle at Gilbert's drug store or direct, all charges prepaid, from the American makers, the Gironx Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

DRINK PLENTY OF GOOD WATER

Also Recipe to Relieve Kidney Trouble Which Anyone Can Prepare.

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well known authority. "The numerous cases of kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected."

Stop loading your system with medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain, common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach.

To cure rheumatism you must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion. For these conditions you can do no better than take the following prescription: Fluid extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often.

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

What Threatens.
Oh, little Mary, plain of face,
With eyes of faded blue,
Some day some large, impulsive man
Will fall in love with you.
Will swear you are the very miss
His empty heart to fill.
The one and only girl for him,
Or let us hope he will.

Some moment when you least expect
A lover he will stray
Across your path and after that Refuse to go away.
Your very presence, he'll declare,
Will cause his heart to thrill
And make him for the first time live,
Or let us hope he will.

With praises he will overwhelm
Your modest maiden heart.
Will promise death, and death alone,
You two can ever part.
Will write a sonnet to your eyes
With fever if not skill
To prove they are the brightest yet,
Or let us hope he will.

And, little Mary, plain of face,
Adorned with charms so fair,
You'll half believe as he protests
The things he says are true.
And when you have been hitched for life
Your dreamings to fulfill
You'll ever after happy live,
Or let us hope you will.

Valuable Item for Men.

Health and strength hitherto unknown will be felt surging in rich red blood through the arteries and veins and life's greatest ambitions may be realized as never before, if the following special treatment is followed by those men and women, too, who are stricken with that most dreaded of all afflictions, nervous exhaustion, accompanied with such symptoms as extreme nervousness, insomnia, cold extremities, melancholia, headaches, constipation and dyspepsia, kidney trouble, dreadful dreams of direful disasters, timidity in venturing and a general inability to act naturally at all times as other people do. Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment, even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full bounding health and all the happiness accompanying it, the following home treatment is given. It contains no opiates or habit-forming drugs whatever. Mix it at home and no one will be the wiser as to your affliction.

The treatment is simple, thorough and correct. Leading druggists supply the main ingredients, extracts and essences in one-ounce bottles, ready to mix. Get three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound, mix with one ounce compound fluid halmwort, and stand two hours. Add one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene (not cardamon) compound. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime.

The ingredients are used for various prescriptions.

NEW STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Provided For in Report of Commission.

Defines Grades and Characters of Schools and Duties of School Officers.

THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 12.—The educational commission created by the last general assembly met here and reported an outline of the measure that will likely be introduced at the next session of the legislature to create a new state board of education and prescribe its duties.

The measure as submitted provides that the state board of education shall consist of seven members, and shall be elected by the senate every two years. The board of trustees of the State University shall nominate two persons, the regents of the Western and Eastern Normal schools one each.

The Kentucky College association two, the governor two, city superintendents and two county superintendents, and the federation of women's clubs two, and from this list of nominations the senate will elect seven persons who will constitute the board of education. If this measure is finally approved there will be certain to be a woman on the board something new in Kentucky.

The compensation given will be $5 a day at each meeting, and the number of meeting days must not exceed 24 days. The duties of the board as set forth are for the election of two school inspectors, and such other employees as are not provided for by law; approve of the questions of the state board of examiners; supervise the educational departments of the charitable and reformatory institutions of the state; supervise and arrange for the teachers' institutes; select the text books; supervise the county teachers' libraries; classify, accredit and standardize the secondary schools and colleges of the state, and perform such other duties as are not provided for by law.

Shall Secure Report.

The state superintendent shall request annually, by the first day of August, of the president, principal or chief executive officer of every chartered or incorporated educational institution in this state, a report of such facts as may be necessary to render his own report of the educational resources of the state complete and he shall furnish blanks for such reports; and it is hereby made the duty of every president, principal or chief executive officer to fill out and return such blanks within such time as the superintendent of public instruction shall request.

For refusal or continued neglect on the part of any such institution to make the report required by this section, or for refusal to permit an inspection of its instruction, methods and equipment when requested by the state superintendent, the state board of education shall exclude it from the list of accredited schools as hereinafter provided, and may recommend to the legislature the suspension of its right to grant degrees.

Will Control Gifts.

When any donation, gift or devise of real or personal property shall have been made to the common school fund of Kentucky, the state superintendent shall designate some disinterested person, who shall be appointed by the court of the county in which the property is located, to take charge of the gift, donation or devise, sell or dispose of same, and pay the proceeds into the state treasury. In the discharge of his duties, this appointee shall have all the powers, be subject to the same liabilities and be governed by the same laws in all respects as are prescribed by law for executors and administrators.

The court shall allow him a reasonable compensation for his services, not exceeding ten per cent. on the first five hundred dollars and five per cent. on the residue paid into the state treasury.

But the provisions of this section shall not apply to any case where they conflict with the terms or conditions of the gift, donation or devise. In such case the terms of the gift, donation or devise shall be carried out as intended by the person making the same.

The commission also tentatively adopted the outline of the measure creating the office of superintendent of public instruction that will be introduced at the next legislature. This of course, is subject to change. First there are a number of definitions outlined as to what the school system is, or will be. Then it comes the provision of the measure for the office of superintendent.

The Board's Definition.

For the purpose of this law the following definitions shall prevail:

1. The common school system embraces all schools legally entitled to aid from the common school fund.
2. The public school system includes all common schools and other educational institutions supported by or receiving financial aid from the state.
3. The educational system of the state embraces the public school system and all other agencies for literary, industrial or professional training, operating in and deriving any of their powers or privileges from the state.
4. An elementary school is a school whose work is not more than equivalent or only partially equivalent to that prescribed by the state board of education for the first eight grades of the common schools.
5. A secondary or high school is a school maintaining a course of study which begins at the completion of an elementary course of eight years, extends over two, three or four years, and is equivalent in content to that prescribed by the state board of education for the same periods.

Rules for Entrance.

6. College is an institution which should require for admission not less than three years of high school preparation or its equivalent, in addition to a full elementary course. It should maintain a course of four full years of college grade in the liberal arts and sciences and adequate equipment for teaching the same effectively.

7. A university is an institution which in addition to meeting the requirements for a college should offer facilities for graduate work in the liberal arts and sciences or maintain one or more efficient professional departments.

The duties of the superintendent of public instruction and the provisions of the measure follow:

State Inspectors Allowed.

He shall serve as ex officio; chairman of the state board of education; chairman of the state board of examiners; chairman of the boards of regents of the state normal schools, for the eastern and western districts; chairman of the board of trustees of the Kentucky Normal and Industrial Institute for colored persons; member of the board of trustees of the State University.

He shall have power, with the approval of the state board to appoint state inspector who shall also act under his direction. He shall also appoint a chief clerk whose salary shall be $1,500, a first clerk whose salary shall be $1,200, a second clerk whose salary shall be $850 and a stenographer whose salary shall be $750 per annum.

He shall sign all requisitions on the auditor of public accounts for the payment of money out of the state treasury for school purposes, and shall keep an account of all requisitions so drawn. He shall furnish to the auditor an account of all returns of settlements and notify him promptly of all changes in the office of county superintendent.

He shall have power in person or by deputy to inspect the books and audit the accounts of county superintendents and of all other officers of the common school system as often as he may deem proper.

Some Other Power.

He shall have power to withhold any share of the state school fund due any city, county, district or individual school officer, upon proof that said city, county, district or school officer has failed to comply with the provisions of the school law, or willfully disobeyed any decision of the state superintendent or any order or regulation of the state board of education.

Whenever it shall be proved to his satisfaction that any county superintendent or other school officer has been guilty of any violation or neglect of duty under the school law of the state, or has disobeyed any decision of the state superintendent, or any order or regulation of the state board of education, he may, with the approval of the state board of education, by an order under his hand and seal, remove such county superintendent or other school officer from his office.

With the approval of the state board of education, he shall have power in case of vacancy by death, removal, resignation or otherwise, in the office of county superintendent to appoint a legally qualified person to fill such vacancy until the successor is elected in accordance with the provisions of the constitution of Kentucky.

TWO FAST GAMES

WILL BE PLAYED BY BASKETBALL TEAMS.

Elks Hope to Win First Place From Chess Players Tonight.

Two fast and exciting basketball games are promised for tonight when the Light and Power and the Knights of Columbus will play, and the Elks and D. A. D.'s will battle. The four teams are matched evenly, and about the warmest games of the season are expected. All of the recent games have been exciting, and have deserved larger crowds. The Elks are in second position and hope to win tonight and step higher. The Light and Power team is strong and has made all teams work hard to win. The D. A. D. team has developed team work in excellent shape, while the K. C. team is on its feet now, and it will be hip and tuck between the two tonight.

The officials tonight will be: Welkel, referee; Davis, umpire; Lydon, timekeeper, and Lockwood, scorekeeper.

Daily Thought.

Die when I may, I want it said of me by those who know me best that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower, where I thought a flower would grow.—Abraham Lincoln.

The California legislature has reconsidered its anti-Japanese measure. Has Senator Perkins reconsidered his position?

Ernest Minckwitz, who spanked Roosevelt when a boy, will be elected honorary member of the Annapolis club by vote of the club.

Advocates in the senate of the sea level canal evince greater desire to lock and jam the president than to carry their point.

Although Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, may denounce President Roosevelt, he must remember that the president hasn't been indicted for anything.

Bless your heart, of course, the senatorial committeemen were unselfishly thinking of the dear people when they were wrangling over the time for holding the convention. We never appreciate our free institutions more than when a crowd of politicians fall out over ways and means.

When a man risks his life to steal the affections of another man's wife, and the other man places a value on them exactly equal to the estimated value of the despoiler's wealth, it does seem, that, having elected to take the other man's wife, he ought to abide by the appraisal of the original possessor of her affections.

"The king of England gets $3,000,000 a year, the emperor of Germany $4,000,000, and the sultan of Turkey $7,500,000. Strenuous Teddy only gets $50,000. It's a dirty shame."—Kentucky State Journal.

He doesn't have to kiss the kaiser.

It was a severe blow to City Treasurer J. J. Dorian, that court of appeals decision, philosophically as he may take it. He had served his first term with distinction and conscientious attention to duty. He was re-elected by a large majority for another term. His plans for the future naturally included the remaining years of the term. His election was the will of the people of Paducah; his defeat was the technical construction of a law, over which attorneys differed. But Mr. Dorian is not quarrelling, either with the law or with fate.

THE SUN IS JUSTIFIED.
With impudent hypocrisy the News-Democrat says:

"While there was no likelihood that the city was to lose its money through Mr. Dorian serving as treasurer and not being eligible to the office and, therefore, not legally a treasurer and, again therefore, not liable as such an officer for the money placed in his hands, the whole thing was irregular and very dangerous because it was irregular."

Even though it also says:
"Walters is entitled to the office when his bond is accepted by the general council and his eligibility of election is shown. For the time that Walters has been serving as treasurer he will probably lose the salary of the office."

This is sufficiently self-contradictory to stamp the statement as a product of our sullen morning contemporary.

What The Sun has said it has said, and sticks to, and it said everything as plainly and emphatically as possible. J. J. Dorian has been city treasurer for five years, is treasurer now and will be treasurer until George Walters brings his suit properly in the circuit court, establishes his eligibility and qualifies, and Maurice McIntyre will be compelled to issue licenses to everyone, who paid his money to Treasurer Dorian.

The Sun expressed no opinion as to the merits of the controversy in court. That is not a newspaper's business. The less newspapers try to influence courts in their decisions the better off the country will be.

On every point for which The Sun contended the court of appeals sustained our position. We insisted that since Mr. Dorian was city treasurer de facto, he should be allowed to remain in undisturbed possession of the office until such a time as the court of appeals might declare him ineligible, in order that there might be no confusion of the city's funds.

The Sun protested against the assumption on the part of City Clerk Maurice McIntyre of authority to pass on the bonds of city officials. He produced a gratitulos opinion of the city solicitor as his authority. The court of appeals says the general council should pass on the bond of the city treasurer, and that is essential to his qualification.

The Sun protested against Mr. McIntyre taking it upon himself to recognize whomsoever he pleased as city treasurer. He produced an opinion from the city solicitor as his instructions to recognize Mr. Walters as city treasurer. The court of appeals holds that Mr. Walters must amend his pleading in the circuit court to show that he is eligible to the office before he is entitled even to a decree, awarding him the office, and that before he assumes the duties his bond must be approved by the general council. It was against the usurpation of authority by the city clerk and the city solicitor we protested, and the rebuke administered them by the court of appeals is our justification.

LINCOLN.

It is with strange pride and tender sentiment that the nation today turns its attention to the little log cabin on the little old farm in Laue county, where Abraham Lincoln was born. While we love the simple walks from which our great men are called, we cling true to the traditions of a free people, and the lowliest among us is exalted by the kinship of the greatest. We differ, perhaps, from our European brethren about the meaning of the expression, "to the manor born"; but there is a nobility of the soul, that thrives regardless of physical environments, and of such nobility was Abraham Lincoln.

SOME STORIES AROUND TOWN

One negro prisoner in charge of City Jailor Jim Clark certainly did get clean at the expense of the jailor. The incident took place about two weeks ago when a big colored prisoner, that was locked up for a breach of the peace, happened to spy the bath tub about two-thirds full of hot water. The prisoner didn't ask any questions but stripped and jumped into the tub and thought he was in paradise. The big husky negro had finished his bath and had put his clothes on before Jailor Clark came down the steps. Just as soon as the prisoner saw the jailor he told him what he had done and that he was just feeling fine. Jailor Clark began laughing and had the prisoner unfasten his shirt and to the prisoner's astonishment he found that all the hide was peeling off his body. Jailor Clark had put a can of concentrated lye in the tub of hot water, intending to wash the tub out as soon as the water cooled. A little salve furnished by the jailor was a great help in saving the skin on the body of the prisoner.

Mayor Smith took a ride in his new car at Chicago. The agent took him a spin on Michigan avenue to show him how fast it could go. They ran into a one-cylinder Cadillac and knocked the little machine over the curb and on the sidewalk. The mayor doesn't intend to use his machine for fighting purposes, but he says he feels now that in case of collision with the ordinary machine, Vice-Mayor Hendman will not be compelled to take his attention wholly away from the plumbing business.

The Rugged Prospectors.

[Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.]

This is a true story. It happened in 1865.

"There's no way, Becker, for us to keep soul and body together till spring except to go into the mountains and cut wood."

"And freeze our fingers and our noses and our feet. We may as well starve to death."

"It won't be long. This is the early part of January. The spring 'll be along in a couple of months, and we can go to prospecting again."

"Prospecting? How many years have I been digging holes in the ground for nothing. I tell you, Trimmer, I'm through with prospecting, and as soon as I can get a regular job I'm going to take it."

"But you can't get a job just now, and we've nothing to eat. Come, cheer up. It's always darkest before day."

The two ragged, discouraged men climbed the mountains of Calaveras county, Cal. There was a chance of their making some thirty or forty dollars a month, on which they could easily live and buy some clothes, but it was a hard and come-down from the roseate dreams with which they had begun to hunt for a fortune. They found an old abandoned miner's cabin, in which they made their home, a dispiriting place in which to live, for it was a perpetual reminder of another's failure. But they were not hunting for gold in this region; they were keeping themselves alive.

Every morning as soon as it was light the sound of their axes rang in the wood and continued till the early winter twilight came on. Cord after cord was stacked up, each cord representing days of hard labor. Meanwhile a snowstorm came down on them and covered the ground to a depth of two feet. The prediction as to frozen members was not verified, for there was plenty of wood to keep up a fire.

"We've got such a pile of brush here from chopped off branches," said Trimmer to his partner one afternoon, "that we'd better get rid of it."

So they touched a flame to it, and it was soon roaring and crackling, sending out a pleasant heat. It melted the snow beneath it and left an area of hot ground.

"Here's a good chance for a roast," said Becker. "I'm going to make an oven in this hot earth, and we'll cook our deer meat."

"A good idea," replied Trimmer. "We haven't any current jelly, but the haunch will taste pretty good without it."

So Becker began to dig a hole for the baking. At the depth of two feet he struck a bed of rock.

"Good!" he exclaimed. "It's hot stone and will keep its heat. Give me the meat."

The venison was brought in a baking pan, and Trimmer was about to place it in the hole when Becker stopped him.

"Hold on till I chip off a piece of the stone to see what it's like," he said.

"I thought you were through with prospecting," Trimmer remarked satirically.

"So I am. This isn't prospecting; it's only yielding to a habit. Any man who has been hunting in the earth as long as we have will want to see everything he takes out."

He broke off a bit of his oven bed, the venison was placed in the hole and covered over, and the two men listened to the welcome sound of its sizzling.

Becker took the piece of rock into his cabin, where he lighted a candle, for it was now dark and the brush had burned to cinders. Trimmer was over the oven basting the venison when he heard his partner call.

"Come here, Trim."

Trimmer went to the cabin where Becker was holding the clipping of rock to the candle.

"What do you think of that?" asked Becker, his eyes standing out of his head as big as butter plates.

"What do I think of it? Why, great Scott, man; it's live rock!"

"That's what it is," replied Becker; "nothing more nor less—that is, if I know live rock when I see it, and I think I do."

"Shake!" shouted Trimmer. "We've struck it, and struck it big."

It was a supper of another kind from roasted venison that the partners partook of—a probable realization of their vanished wild dreams. The meat was savory, but their minds were not on it. They were laying plans. Experience had taught them what to do. They would keep their secret. They would pre-empt their claim. They would learn the dip angle and the length and breadth of their newly discovered ledge.

Spring came, and the partners were still ostensibly cutting wood, while they were really gathering information. One day Becker went down into the valley, appeared at an assay office, handed in the chip of rock he had broken from the floor of his improvised oven and left it to have it assayed. He went back to the assayers the next day, got his report and started up the mountain. Trimmer saw him coming, but so cautious were the men in guarding their secret that he withheld inquiry till both were in the cabin and the door closed.

"Well?" he asked impatiently.

"Six hundred dollars to the ton."

"Rich, by thunder!"

Such is the story of the discovery of the famous Trojan mine. Within a year from the time when Henry Becker dug an oven in which to cook a haunch of venison he and John L. Trimmer had more than realized their wildest dreams.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Mr. J. K. Gregory, who has been attending the commercial department of Paducah-Central Business College, is now bookkeeper at the Bohmer Tobacco company, Ninth and Harrison streets, where the college placed him. Mr. Gregory acquired also a fine hand writing at the college.

The college reports its attendance larger and larger each succeeding year, the present enrollment being the largest since its opening six years ago, there being only two vacant desks at present and those will likely be taken soon.

Mr. Ben D. Vlek, a young school teacher from near Ledbetter, who has been taking the commercial course at Paducah-Central, left yesterday to take the position of bookkeeper and assistant cashier of a bank at Tolu, Ky. Mr. Vlek had not quite completed his course, but the college officials say that about five of their pupils have been sent to banks and made good before completing their course, while none have failed.

Paducah-Central Business College has been making several additions of late, among which is a new office, adding machine, etc. It has always been an exceedingly well equipped institution and each year makes the addition of modern office devices of the kind used in the best business offices.

Paducah-Central students have formed two basketball teams and are training to challenge the High school team. If they play ball like "Paducah Centrals" operate typewriters, keep books, or write shorthand, there will be fun for somebody.

Among the basketball team are: Moses Gertrude Fisher, Anna Harlan, May Milburn, Ruth McNeill, Ruby Johnson, Sarah Wilson, Flora McCann and Mabel Berry.

The college heretofore closed from noon until 1:15 for lunch, but now closes at 11:45 until 1 p. m., to afford its students from a distance the first dash at the "boarding house grub."

This is in keeping with the college record of affording their students the facility to become first in everything.

An additional new modern fire escape has just been installed in the rear of Paducah-Central, thus now affording its pupils three different exits in case of fire, instead of two heretofore. This is a wise addition and one to be wisely considered when selecting a college.

Paducah-Central has pupils now from as far west as California. This is quite remarkable for a college which started only a few years ago with one desk and one pupil and has grown without any standing advertisement in the newspapers. This speaks well, for none other than a college of great efficiency could exist without continual advertising. Indeed, some colleges would get very little business at all without continual advertising. Paducah-Central is all right. It is Paducah's college and is doing much for Paducah.

Mr. J. F. Sexton, who is now attending Paducah-Central Business College, and who will soon complete his course, has left for Smithland, Ky., where he intends to announce his candidacy for office of circuit clerk of Livingston county. Mr. Sexton is a very popular young man and it is fully believed he will win his race.

CONFIDENCE.

We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can cure constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels and make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous and often fatal.

Constipation is caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy evolved the labor of the world's greatest research chemists. It possesses all the best qualities of the remedial active principle of the best known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They have a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause any inconvenience whatever. They will positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. W. H. McPherson, Drugist, Paducah.

UNWISE FUNERAL EXPENSES.

In Time of Direct Need Mourners Ex-unwarranted In Showing Grief.

How many Americans are sensible and rational in time of sorrow? Many a family whose dear one has been taken goes into mourning and spends more than it can afford for the new clothes. The man whose wife has died, and who blows that now more than ever he will have difficulty in keeping his house comfortable for the children, allows the undertaker to sell him an expensive casket. The bereaved heart overcomes the intelligence with the false argument, "It is the last thing we can do for her, and we must do it well." As if we could gratify the dead by such attentions! The doctor's bill for all the long struggle before death came, and one of the chief supports of the family economy have been taken away. Yet we commit the needless extravagance of a pageant that does no honor to the dead, is no credit to the intelligence of the living, but keeps the living for months in cramped circumstances and perhaps makes a tradesman wait for his money.

The first Duke of Westminster, a very rich man and no miser, provided in his will that his funeral should not cost more than $7. Perhaps by so doing he suggested the best way to rid our relatives of the burden of extravagant funerals; that is to record a wish, each of us, there and now, that when we go there shall be no unnecessary expense.—Youth's Companion.

His Deficiency.
A certain Chicago merchant died, leaving to his only son the conduct of an extensive business, and great doubt was expressed in some quarters whether the young man possessed the ability to carry out the father's policies.

"Well," said one kindly disposed friend, "for my part, I think Henry is very bright and capable. I'm sure he will succeed."

"Perhaps you're right," said another friend; "Henry is undoubtedly a clever fellow, but take it from me, old man, he hasn't got the head to fill his father's shoes."—Harper's Weekly.

A young man who persisted in whispering loudly to lady who accompanied him to a symphony concert, telling her what the music "meant," what sort of passage was coming next, and so on caused serious annoyance to everyone of his immediate neighbors. Presently he closed his eyes and said to his companion:
"Did you ever try listening to music with your eyes shut? You've no idea how lovely it sounds."
Thereupon a gentleman who sat in a seat in front of the young man twisted himself about and said gravely:

Opium in China.
Says the North China Daily News: "It seems as if the suppression of poppy cultivation is to be strictly enforced in Kiangnan. Several persons who have traveled in the country report that none at all are being sown this year. Across the border in Shantung they are still planting it, though in reduced quantities. It may be that the high price of grain is the actual cause for the farmers say that they can make almost as much on wheat as they can on the poppy, and the income being the same, they would prefer to raise wheat. But the officials are in earnest in their efforts to suppress poppy culture, while they are as lax as ever in regard to the use of opium, the dens still being wide open. Anti-opium pills—a very euphonious name for morphine—are being used more and more. They should be entirely prohibited, as many Chinese are actually fooled thereby. They consider it a very easy way to break the habit of smoking, but do not reflect that the pill habit remains."

The Literature department of the Women's club, Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, chairman, met this morning at the club house. James Russell Lowell and Oliver Wendell Holmes were discussed in a very delightful manner. Mrs. I. O. Walker in a critical estimate of "From My Study Window" gave a resume of Lowell's life and work. She read in conclusion Lowell's "Ode to Lincoln," which though written just after his death, is a beautiful and just tribute to the man as he now appears today, his centenary anniversary. The reading of the poem was a pretty honoring of the day. Holmes' "Breakfast Table Series" was appreciatively discussed by Miss Jennie Gilson.

"Fast Black."
Mme. De Navarro praised at a luncheon in New York American wit:
"It was horribly cold the other afternoon," she said. "A bitter wind whirled the dry snow through the air. The policemen had red, swollen faces, and all the teamsters, as they drove, kept slapping their poor frost-bitten hands against their breasts."
"Getting into my hansom I said to the driver:
"This is real winter weather, isn't it?"
"The driver nodded and smiled grimly.
"I give you my word, ma'am," said he, "I ain't seen a butterfly all day."—Washington Star.

Found a Spider
In His Copy
of the Paper.

When Mark Twain was editing the Virginia City Enterprise he received from a superstitious subscriber a letter stating that the writer had found a spider in his copy of the paper and wanted to know whether that was good or bad luck. Mark replied in his "Answers to Correspondents" column:

Old Subscriber—The finding of a spider in your copy of the Enterprise was neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our pages to find out what merchant was not advertising, so that it could spin its web across his door and lead a free and undisturbed existence forever and ever.

And Mark hit the mark. Does it hit you?

NEWS OF COURTS

Police Court.
Breach of ordinance, Harry Reesor, dismissed. Breach of peace, Spencer Foster continued to February 15. Frank Lovelace, $5.

In Circuit Court.
A short session of court was held this morning by Circuit Judge William Reed, but this afternoon no court was held, as the judge and attorneys took an afternoon in honor of the centenary of Lincoln.

Albert Bradshaw was excused as a petit juror this morning and Phillip Post was placed in his place.
The case of Arthur Simon against Foreman Brothers Electrical company has been settled, and the case was dismissed this morning. Simon was injured in an automobile accident.
The case of John K. Hendrick against Brack Owen, administrator of the estate of James Owen, for an attorney's fee was dismissed, as the case has been compromised.

HAS EXPERIENCE WITH MONS.
Sheriff Dean Escapes One, Only to Run Into Another.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 12.—Escaping one mob thirsting for the blood of the negro murderer, John Woodfolk, whom he was bringing to Nashville, Sheriff Dean, of Smith county, ran headlong into another at Gallatin on Tuesday night, formed to take Alex Whiteside from the Gallatin jail with an intent to lynch him.
Sheriff Dean arrested Woodfolk for the murder of John Nunley, a farmer of Smith county. Upon hearing that the negro was in custody, farmers in the vicinity of Dixon Springs gathered and started for the county jail. Sheriff Dean learned of the mob and spirited his prisoner away to Gallatin, en route to Nashville. There he came in close proximity to a mob which had gathered to do violence to one Whiteside, assistant of Deputy Duntam last week. Whiteside had been spirited away to Nashville, so the Sumner county mob failed in its initial purpose, turned its attention to Woodfolk, and only by the huge bluffing of the sheriff and his deputy was the negro saved.

26 INDICTED AS TIMBER THIEVES.
New Fraud Against Government Is Charged in Oklahoma Bills.

Muskogee, Okla., Feb. 12.—Indictments against twenty-six representatives of big corporations, charging them with stealing valuable timber from segregated lands in Oklahoma, were returned by the federal grand jury here today. A national indictment was returned against one person for impersonating a United States officer in furtherance of the scheme of alleged timber thieves. The alleged thefts occurred chiefly in the Choctaw, Chickasaw and Seminole nations.

Judge Campbell issued strict orders that no names of the indicted persons be given out until after the men have been arrested and have either been committed to jail or have given bond. When the government inspectors reported the thefts it has been the custom of the timber thieves to admit their guilt and to pay certain amounts into the treasury of the Indian agency in lieu of the value of the timber stolen. Then the thieves would promise not to commit any more depredations.

ROB BOLIVAR POSTOFFICE.
Yeggen Secure Several Hundred Dollars in Stamps and Money.

Bolivar, Tenn., Feb. 12.—The safe at the postoffice here was blown open and looted of its contents. Between $550 and $600 in stamps were taken besides over $100 in cash.
No registered mail was in the safe. Several dollars worth of old coins were also taken. The rural route desks were not disturbed.
The heavy detonation was heard by several parties sleeping near the office, but no discovery was made until the janitor found the front door ajar at 6 o'clock.
The wires have been busy today, as accurate descriptions of several suspicious persons were sent to authorities at different places. This makes the third robbery committed at the Bolivar postoffice.

LOCAL OPTION BILL PASSED.
Fate of West Virginia Measure With House.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 12.—The Craig local option bill passed the senate today by a vote of 17 to 11. The measure provides that if a county votes dry any city in that county, of 2,000 population, remains "wet" until said city shall vote out said bonds. On the other hand, if the county votes wet, the whole county shall be wet.

The bill now goes to the assembly, which body has already adopted a resolution providing for the submission of a prohibition amendment to the constitution.

IF IT DISAPPEARS, IT'S ECZEMA.

How to Tell Whether a Skin Affection Is an Inherited Blood Disease or Not.

Sometimes it is hard to determine whether a skin affection is a sign of a blood disorder or simply a form of eczema. Even physicians are often puzzled in their diagnosis. The best way for any one afflicted is to go to Gilbert's, or any good druggist who handles pure drugs and obtain 50 cents' worth of poslam. Apply this, and the itching stops at once and the trouble is cured in a few days. It may be set down as having been eczema, as this is the way poslam acts in the worst cases of eczema, and in curing acne, herpes, blotches, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, barbor's and other forms of itch, scaly scalp and all surface skin affections.

Those who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, can secure, by mail free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overnight and remove pimples in twenty-four hours.

Among West Indian ladies a lemon bath is almost a daily luxury. Several times or lemons are sliced into the water and allowed to lie for half an hour in order that the juice may be extracted. A remarkable sense of freshness and cleanliness is given to the skin.—Health.

After telling an old man one trouble he will proceed to tell you a few of the things that make yours look like 30 cents.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

LINCOLN DAY

Every visitor wanted to drink at the spring and the crowd had to fall in line.

Aside from the speakers the guests of honor were Mrs. Ben Hardin, of Louisville, a half sister of Mrs. Lincoln, and Robert Collier, of New York, who bought the farm and started the movement for a national memorial.

Governor Folk, as president of the Lincoln Farm association, opened the speech making. The laying of the cornerstone and Roosevelt's speech followed. Governor Wilson and Sec. Wright followed and Bishop Galloway pronounced the benediction.

Wilson's Speech.

Governor Wilson said: To the President of the United States: The commonwealth of Kentucky, one of the first daughters of the Union, and all of her people, give a most cordial salute and welcome to Theodore Roosevelt, first citizen, loved, trusted and honored of the people. To all the people of the Union so splendidly represented and to the men of the Lincoln Farm association, we give greeting and rejoice to have you with us in Kentucky and to join you in this endeavor and in all the inspirations and associations of this time and place.

"We have met here on this farm where he was born, in memory of Abraham Lincoln, to know for ourselves and to prove to the world by a record made to endure, that the love of country and of its nobly useful citizens, are not dreams nor idle words, but indeed living, stirring and breathing feelings.

"Abraham Lincoln is claimed by all humanity. Our whole country claims him as the son of the whole Union. And Lincoln says 'He was mine, the man of Illinois; here on my prairie he ripened into noble manhood and here he made his home.'

"Indiana, too, says 'He was mine. In my southern hills the little child grew tall and strong; and each is right and true.

"But Kentucky says 'I am his mother. I nursed him at my breast; my baby, born of me. He is mine! Shall any claim come before the mother's?'

Secretary Wright.

Secretary Wright said: "Lincoln believed in the indissoluble union; that slavery was a curse. Believing this was right, men of the south can look back on the lost cause without bitterness. They can without bitterness pay a tribute to Lincoln, the great American."

President's Speech.

President Roosevelt said: "We have met here to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the birth of one of the two greatest Americans; of one of the two or three greatest men of the nineteenth century; of one of the greatest men in the world's history. This tall, slender, thin boy who passed his unglorious youth in the dire poverty of the poorest of the frontier folk, whose rise was by weary and painful labor, liked to lead his people through the burning flames of a struggle from which the nation emerged, purified as by fire, born anew to a loftier life. After long years of iron effort, and of failure that came more often than victory, he at last rose to the leadership of the republic, at the moment when that leadership had become the stupendous world-task of the time. He grew to know greatness, but never ease. Success came to him, but never happiness, save that which springs from doing well a painful and a vital task. Power was his, but not pleasure. The furrows deepened on his brow, but his eyes were undimmed by either hate or fear. His gaunt shoulders were bowed, but his steel thighs never faltered as he bore for a burden the destinies of his people. His great and tender heart shrank from giving pain; and the task allotted him was to pour out like water the life-blood of the young men, and to feel in his every fiber the sorrow of the women. Disaster saddened but never dismayed him. As the red years of war went by they found him ever doing his duty in the present, ever facing the future with fearless front, high of heart and dauntless of soul. Unbroken by hatred, unshaken by scorn, he worked and suffered for the people. Triumph was his at the last; and barely had he tasted it before murder found him, and the kindly, patient, fearless eyes were closed forever.

"As a people we are indeed beyond measure fortunate in the characters of the two greatest of our public men, Washington and Lincoln. Widely though they differed in externals, the Virginian landed gentleman and the Kentucky backwoodsman, they were alike in essentials, they were alike in the great qualities which rendered each able to render service to his nation and to all mankind such as no other man of his generation could or did render. Each had lofty ideals, but each in striving to attain these lofty ideals was guided by the soundest common sense. Each possessed inflexible courage in adversity, and a soul wholly unimpeded by prosperity. Each possessed all the gentler virtues commonly exhibited by good men who lack rugged strength of character. Each possessed also all the strong qualities commonly exhibited by those towering masters of mankind who have too often shown themselves devoid of so much as the understanding of the words by which we signify the qualities of duty, of mercy, of devotion to the right, of lofty disinterestedness in battling for the good of others. There have been other men as great and other men as good; but in all the history of mankind there are no other two great men as good as these, no other two good men as great. Widely though the problems of today differ from the problems set for solution to Washington when he founded this nation, to Lincoln when he saved it and freed the slave, yet the qualities they showed in meeting these problems are exactly the same as those we should show in doing our work today.

Prophetic imagination. "Lincoln saw into the future with

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust settles to the bottom, leaving a milky or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unhappy necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The prophetic imagination usually vouchsafed only to the poet and the seer. He had in him all the lift toward greatness of the visionary, without any of the visionary's fanaticism or egotism, without any of the visionary's narrow jealousy of the practical man and inability to strive in practical fashion for the realization of an ideal. He had the practical man's hard common sense and willingness to adapt means to ends; but there was in him none of that morbid growth of mind and soul which blinds so many practical men to the higher things of life. No more practical man ever lived than this homely backwoods idealist; but he had nothing in common with those practical men whose consciences are warped until they fail to distinguish between good and evil, fail to understand that strength, ability, shrewdness, whether in the world of business or of politics, only serve to make their passions a more noxious, a more evil member of the community if they are not guided and controlled by a fine and high moral sense.

Today's Problems.

"We of this day must try to solve many social and industrial problems, requiring to an especial degree the combination of indomitable resolution with cool-headed sanity. We can profit by the way in which Lincoln used both these traits as he strove for reform. We can learn much of value from the very attacks which following that course brought upon his head, attacks alike by the extremists of reaction. He never wavered in devotion to his principles, in his love for the Union, and in his abhorrence of slavery. Timid and lukewarm people were always denouncing him because he was too extreme; but as a matter of fact he never went to extreme, he worked step by step; and because of this the extremists hated and denounced him with a fervor which now seems to us fantastic in its delirium of the unreal and the impossible. At the very time when one side was holding him up as the apostle of social revolution because he was against slavery, the leading abolitionist denounced him as the "slavehound of Illinois." When he was the second time candidate for president, the majority of his opponents attacked him because of what they termed his extreme radicalism, while a minority threatened to bolt his nomination because he was not radical enough. He had continually to check those who wished to go forward too fast, at the very time that he overrode the opposition of those who wished not to go forward at all. The goal was never dim before his vision; but he picked his way cautiously, without either halt or hurry, as he strode toward it, through such a morass of difficulty that no man of less courage would have attempted it, while it would surely have overwhelmed any man of judgment less serene.

"Yet perhaps the most wonderful thing of all, and, from the standpoint of the American of today and of the future, the most vitally important, was the extraordinary way in which Lincoln could fight valiantly against what he deemed wrong and yet preserve undiminished his love and respect for the brother from whom he differed. In the hour of a triumph that would have turned any weaker man's head, in the heat of a struggle which spurred many a good man to dreadful vindictiveness, he said truthfully that so long as he had been in office he had never willingly planted a thorn in any man's bosom, and besought his supporters to study the incidents of the trial through which they were passing as philosophy from which to learn wisdom and not as wrongs to be avenged; ending with the solemn exhortation that, as the strife was over, all should reunite in a common effort to save their common country.

grapple in mortal strife. At such times men see through a glass darkly; to only the rarest and loftiest spirits is vouchsafed that clear vision which gradually comes to all, even to the lesser, as the struggle fades into distance, and wounds are forgotten, and peace creeps back to the hearts that were hurt. But to Lincoln was given this supreme vision. He did not hate the man from whom he differed. Weakness was as foreign as wickedness to his strong, gentle nature; but his courage was of a quality so high that it needed no bolstering of dark passion. He saw clearly that the same high qualities, the same courage and willingness for self-sacrifice, and devotion to the right as it was given them to see the right, belonged both to the men of the north and to the south. As the years roll by, and as all of us, wherever we dwell, grow to feel an equal pride in the valor and self-devotion, alike of the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray, so this whole nation will grow to feel a peculiar sense of pride in the mightiest of the mighty men who mastered the mighty days; the lover of his country and of all mankind; the man whose blood was shed for the union of his people and for the freedom of a race, Abraham Lincoln."

Marked For Death.

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A grave-yard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. CAST ALUMINUM PLATE CO.

(Incorporated.) Factory, 405 Fraternity Bldg., Paducah, Ky.

This company was organized for the purpose of making for the dentists in all parts of the United States, pure aluminum plate, cast for artificial teeth, an invention of Dr. E. Stamper, of this city. These plates have proven a great success among the dentists also. Dr. Stamper has been using them in his own practice for the past year with marked success. From these facts we are sending these cast aluminum plates to the dentists in the states of Alabama, Louisiana, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Vermont, Maine, California and others.

Now these plates being such a success with the dentists at large, we are going to add to our work the local trade—that of Paducah and vicinity.

We have not room here to tell of all the good features of these plates, and we have for our consulting dentist Dr. Stamper, the inventor of the new process, who will do all of our office work. Call at his office, 203-205 Fraternity building. Office hours 8 to 5:30 daily, Saturday nights 7 to 9. Both telephones.

These Plates Are Better Than Gold Plates and They Never Break

For Highest Cash Market Price Bring Your TOBACCO TO Bohmer's Warehouse

9th & Harrison. Paducah, Ky. Old Phone 72

Empty bags heads furnished free to parties wishing to ship their tobacco by rail or river

Tobacco is unloaded in large, flat baskets, each grade to itself, weighed and receipt given owner, showing number of draft and pounds thereof. A corresponding ticket is placed on each pile. The highest bid is written on ticket and, should owner accept same, by presenting at office receipt previously given, the cash is handed over.

Should the bid offered not be satisfactory, the tobacco can be offered the next day or at any other time thereafter.

It costs absolutely nothing to offer your tobacco unless bid is accepted, in which case we charge 15 cents per hundred pounds and 2 cents on the dollar.

The greatest demand among manufacturers and dealers is for loose tobacco and, since it will bring more money offered loose, why go to the expense of having prized, stored, insured, inspected and looked after?

You will get more money for your tobacco when offered to the highest bidder in open competition with twenty-five buyers trying to buy than when you expect or require one buyer to buy millions of pounds without competition at a round price.

Why Syrup Pepsin is Free

For more years probably than the age of the person reading this, Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., has practiced medicine, and the one thing that forced itself on his mind was the urgent need of the human body for something that would scientifically regulate the digestive organs—the stomach, liver and bowels. These years of study developed Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, now recognized as the national safeguard of health in thousands of good American homes. For twenty years it has been gaining friends, for it is today, as it always has been, the best laxative tonic for women, children and old folks, for those especially need a gentle, safe laxative tonic that is sure in results and does not gripe. It is because the doctor has watched its good work for all these years and believes in the merit of his remedy that he offers to send a free trial bottle at his own expense to anyone who writes him. You have simply to send your name and address. On the strength of what these free trial bottles have done—and thousands have been given away—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is today more widely used than any other American remedy for constipation, liver trouble, flatulency, biliousness, indigestion, sour stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn and similar disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. It can be obtained of any druggist for 50 cents and if a bottle, and a bottle will do you a hundred times the amount of good it costs you.

People like Mrs. M. L. Graves, 833 Oakwood ave., Toledo, O.; G. B. Houston, Bessemer, Ala.; William Reid, Goodman, Miss., once sent for a free trial bottle and now have their entire family using it as needed.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 507 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

NOTICE.

I urgently request all persons indebted to me to make settlement before the first day of May, 1920, as I will after that date bring suit on every unpaid note and account due me. Now your account is to each of you a small matter, while the whole is to me very important. I shall deal with all alike; if you don't pay you may know that you will be sued, whatever your name or color may be. I hate to do this, but I am forced to it in self-defense. If you have not the money and will borrow it to pay me in full by the first day of March, 1920, I will deduct 10 per cent from your account, thereby paying the interest myself. Is this not as fair as any sane man can ask?

Home Course In Modern Agriculture

XI.—Bacteria—How They Affect the Farmer

By C. V. GREGORY.

Agricultural Division, Iowa State College

Copyright, 1900, by American Press Association

WE hear a great deal about bacteria, or germs, as they are more popularly called, but few people know what they really are. Although they are so small that it would take several thousand together to make a spot large enough to be seen with the naked eye, yet their importance to the farmer is not measured by their size.

Bacteria are tiny plants, each composed of a single cell. These cells are of various shapes and sizes. Some are round, some long and some shaped like a corkscrew. Some are found singly and some in groups. Some cannot move at all, some move by twisting themselves about, and still others have long, tail-like flagella by which they move themselves along.

Bacteria are made up of a clear, jellylike material called protoplasm. This protoplasm is surrounded by a harder cell wall. There is a great difference in the thickness of these cell walls, and on this thickness depends to a large extent the ability of the germs to withstand unfavorable conditions. Those with thin cell walls can be killed easily, while the thicker walled kinds are very difficult to exterminate.

Bacteria propagate themselves by dividing. One cell divides into two. Each of these two grows to full size and divides again, and so on. Under favorable conditions this process may be repeated every half hour. At this rate the descendants of one germ would in ten hours number more than a million.

At times the part of the protoplasm of a germ will gather into a round, comparatively hard mass, called a spore. The rest of the cell then crumbles away. This spore is inactive, but possesses much greater powers of resistance than when in the active state. These spores often remain alive to start the infection afresh after the active bacteria have all been killed by disinfection.

Bacteria, like higher plants, have definite requirements for growth. One of the most important of these is moisture. Drying will not kill bacteria, but it will stop their multiplication. Another essential to bacterial growth is warmth. Cold, like dryness, will not kill them, but it will stop them from multiplying. This is the reason that the souring of milk or the spoiling of meat, which is caused by bacteria, goes on much more slowly or not at all when they are kept in a cold place.

One of the principal foods of bacteria is nitrogen. Without it they cannot live. Because of this fact sugar and lard, which contain no nitrogen, never spoil. Bacteria also require oxygen, though only certain species are dependent on the air for their supply. One of these is the kind that causes meat and vegetables to decay. This is why canned fruit and vegetables do not spoil. The bacteria have been killed and the oxygen driven off by heating. The few germs that do get in before the can is sealed up cannot develop for lack of air. If the can is not air tight, however, some oxygen will find its way in, the germs will multiply, and the contents will spoil.

Not all bacteria are injurious. Although some of man's most deadly enemies are found among these invisible micro-organisms, yet many of them are his best friends. We have already learned about the bacteria that live on the roots of legumes and change the nitrogen of the air into a form in which it can be used by plants. The rotting of manure and trash to make humus and of humus to make the elements of plant food available is also due to the action of bacteria. In this way bacteria, by making animal waste available for plant food, complete the circle of plant and animal life.

The putrefying bacteria, or those which cause rotting, are more beneficial than harmful. By their action dead animals and other refuse matter are quickly reduced to the elements from which they were made. Even the odor given off during the process is also beneficial as a reminder that the matter of burying or burning has been neglected.

Other micro-organisms in the form of yeast are a necessary help in bread-making. The yeast plants, growing in the dough, set free considerable amounts of carbon dioxide. This gas in trying to escape fills the dough with holes and spaces, making it "rise."

The bacteria which cause milk and cream to sour are also useful. Butter made from sweet cream is lacking in flavor, and there is not much of it, since the globules of butter fat do not collect as readily as in sour cream. But, while the germs that cause milk to sour are harmless, there are others often found in milk that are not. The first variety will always be plentiful enough anyway, and the others should be kept down to as small a number as possible.

One of the most important methods of doing this is by cleanliness. The milk pails and strainers and the separator should be thoroughly cleaned every time they are used. Mere rinsing with cold water is not enough. Following the ordinary washing by scalding with boiling water is the only sure way of killing all the germs. In cleaning dishes a brush is much better than a rag, since it can be more easily cleaned itself. A dish rag remains damp for a long time after it has been used and furnishes an excellent place for bacteria to grow. The "dish rag flavor" caused by these can often be detected in butter.

After the dishes have been scalded they should be placed in the sun for several hours. There should be as much sunshine as possible in the milk room and cow stable also. Sunlight, which is so necessary to the growth of the higher plants, is fatal to bacteria.

The stable where the milking is done should be cleaned and aired every day. A coat of whitewash should be applied occasionally, as in addition to being a good germ killer it also makes the stable much lighter. Hay should not be fed immediately before milking, as the dust from it is covered with bacteria. The udders and flanks of the cows should be kept perfectly clean. A little dirt falling from them into the milk will take with it thousands of germs. The milk should not be left in the barn after it is drawn, but taken immediately to the milk room.

Many creameries and city milk dealers practice pasteurization. This simply consists in heating the milk to as high a temperature as possible without scalding it. This kills most of the germs, and the few that are left will not develop rapidly enough to do much harm. In creameries a starter—that is, a portion of milk which contains a particular kind of bacteria—is added after pasteurization and the cream then "ripens" for twelve hours or so. By thus supplying germs which are known to produce desirable flavors and killing the others butter of very high quality may be made.

There are bacteria everywhere—in the soil, in the air and in the water. By far the greater number of these are harmless. Even disease germs are unable to obtain a foothold in a perfectly healthy animal or person. The secretions of the mouth and the digestive organs are fatal to many of them. Even if they succeed in getting into the blood they are not yet out of danger. The blood contains large numbers of white corpuscles, which set to seize and destroy these invaders. It is only when an animal becomes weakened from one cause or another that these corpuscles fail to do their duty and the germs begin their destructive work.

The first step in avoiding infection by disease producing bacteria, then, is to keep the animals healthy by proper feed, exercise and shelter. The next point is to do everything possible to prevent the germs from getting into the animal's body.

In case a contagious disease of any sort appears the sick animals should be shut up by themselves as far as possible from the rest of the herd. Disinfectants, such as coal tar dips and bichloride of mercury (one part of the chemical, two parts salt and 1,000 parts water), should be used freely. Care should be taken not to carry the germs from the sick animals to the well ones while caring for them.

Wounds, such as wire cuts, need especial care to prevent infection. Ordinary disinfectants are too irritating, yet something must be done to keep the bacteria from attacking the raw surfaces. Keeping the wound bound up tightly and sprinkling daily with powdered iodoform is one of the best ways of insuring rapid healing.

The germ problem, like the problem of weeds and insects, is easily solved if it is gone at in the right way. Cleanliness, sunlight and disinfection will do much to hold the injurious ones in check, and the others need no encouragement to continue doing their livable though none the less real work to help us. There is no special reason why the germ problem should be made a matter of constant uneasiness on the part of the farmer. It requires a scientist to discriminate between bacteria that are injurious and those that are necessary, and in the meantime it is sufficient for the ordinary agriculturist to be diligent in trenching himself behind cleanliness. Thus fortified he will have little occasion to make a special study of bacteria. Let the scientists do that.

"What are marasmus?" asked the teacher, and Johnny was ready with his answer.

"Animals that have pouches in their stomachs," he said, glibly. "And for what are these pouches used?" asked the teacher, ignoring the slight inaccuracy of the answer. "I'm sure that you know that, too." "Yes'm," said Johnny, with encouraging promptness. "The pouches are for them to crawl into and conceal themselves when pursued." Youth's Companion.

Frozen Meat.
Frozen Chinese pork is to be imported into England, which recalls to a writer in the London Chronicle the fact that the frozen meat trade is nearly a century old. On January 30, 1876, three Equimos arrived at Harwich, England, by the packet from Gothenburg, bringing five sledges packed with marmoset, blackcock and other game, frozen and packed in airtight cases. The enterprising northerners had to pay over $250 duty on the consignment and $50 for carriage from Harwich to London; but as the game was in excellent condition it found a ready sale and brought high prices.

CONTEST WILL TAKE PLACE AT HIGH SCHOOL.

Representative Will Be Chosen for Inter-High School Contest at Madisonville.

Tonight the oratorical contest will be held at the High school to select a representative at the Inter-High school oratorical contest, which will be held at Madisonville next Friday night. A large audience is expected at the High school, despite the damp weather, as the interest between the orators is intense and the spirit has enlivened the student body as well as their friends. As there will be five orations the program will begin at 8 o'clock. There will be several musical numbers.

Prof. W. H. Sugg has selected the judges but he will not announce their names until after the contest.

The program will be:

Overture.

"The Silent Brigade"—Edward Mitchell.

"The Old South"—Miss Alice D. Foster.

Violin and Cornet Solo—Clark and Robert Bondurant.

"Kentucky, the Home of Statesmen"—Marvin Sills.

"Woman, the Home Builder"—Miss Clara Smith.

Piano Solo—Madelaine Cooke.

"The Evil of the Hour"—Edwin Lightfoot.

At Hopkinsville.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Feb. 12.—The oratorical contest at the tabernacle began at 8 o'clock. The following interesting program was arranged:

1. Presiding Officer—Robert Dabney.
2. Jefferson Davis—Bentley Ridd.
3. Selection—Orchestra.
4. Jamestown, Yorktown and Appomattox—Harry Cate.
5. Selection—Orchestra.
6. The American Citizen—Summers Cooper.

10. Decision of Judges.

"Rots, Spots" and the Baker. It would not seem that a law against the sale of rotten eggs would be necessary in these days, but Pennsylvania seems to think one expedient. It appears that in Philadelphia there is a large trade in "rots" and "spots"—spoiled, cracked and dirty eggs—and a bill has been offered in the Pennsylvania legislature to make their sale and use a crime. "Rots" and "spots" are bought by wholesalers, who sell them to bakers at about 6 cents a dozen. With this fact known the housewife who gets pound-cake for 10 cents and 12 cents a pound may understand how the baker can make it so much more cheaply than she can.—New York Tribune.

The steamer Royal arrived on time this morning from Golconda and returned at 2 o'clock this afternoon. She handled a lot of freight and did a good passenger business at Paducah.

The towboat T. H. Davis, of Joppa, caught on fire early Thursday morning and the kitchen and several stoves were burned. The fire started in the kitchen of the boat and spread to the sleeping apartments before it was discovered. It was by fast and hard work that the boat was saved from burning to the water's edge. The Davis came into port yesterday afternoon and tied up at the marine ways, where ship builders and carpenters will make the necessary repairs. The damage done to the boat is several hundred dollars.

The Pavana arrived from the Cumberland yesterday afternoon with a tow of several barges of ties for the Ayer & Lord Tle company. She took on coal and supplies this morning and cleared for Nashville after another tow of ties.

The Hoamer is busy towing ties to Brookport for the Ayer & Lord Tle company. The ties are unloaded on cars at Brookport.

The Reaper will get away for the mines at Caseyville today after a tow of coal for the West Kentucky Coal company.

The Henrietta will leave Monday for the Cumberland after a tow of ties for Joppa.

The "Bull-dog," Lyda, arrived from the Cumberland late yesterday afternoon with a tow of several barges of ties. She left early this morning for Joppa with her tow.

Captains Less Broadfoot and "Little Billy" Smith, who were the pilots on the Margaret, that brought in a tow of ties from Green river yesterday morning, have the honor of bringing in the largest tow of ties out of Green river and down the Ohio. There were 6 barges in the tow.

Capt. George Street has returned from Danville, where for the last ten days he has been piloting the steamer Shiloh in the Danville and Savannah trade in the absence of Capt. Charles Board, the regular pilot. Capt. Board has been at the bedside of his mother in this city, but has returned to the Shiloh.
